

Bloomberg
Industry Group

Jumpstart Your Career

Finance Associate Development Program

Do you have the drive to learn and succeed as a finance professional at an information services and technology company?

If the answer is "Yes!", join us for an 18-month rotational program that will teach you different aspects of finance, immerse you in our company culture, provide excellent pay and benefits, and jumpstart your career.

Bloomberg Industry Group's Finance Associate Development program exposes you to three different areas of a corporate finance organization through on-the-job training:

Develop accurate reporting and analyses that drive improved insights and decision-making materials as part of the CFO Services Team

Draft and approve contracts and proposals for new customers, activate and analyze incoming orders, and calculate sales credits awards as part of the Order to Cash Team

Ensure the company meets financial obligations and maintains strong relationships with vendors by verifying payment submissions, ensuring invoice accuracy, and working with vendor representatives on the Accounts Payables Team

Why Bloomberg Industry Group?

We are an information services and technology company that is driven by our values to Be Essential, Dive In, Make Connections, Break Through, and Foster Belonging.

Scan QR Code to apply for the Finance Associate position.